

Marbling Fortnight 2019

School for Bookbinding Arts

at Cat Tail Run Hand Bookbinding

Enhanced Paper Decoration

September 5 – 6 (Thurs – Fri) $285 + $45 materials fee

Students in this workshop will explore several types of paper decorating techniques including under-painting, stamping, and paste patterning.

Participants will learn how to combine these varied decorative methods to the greatest effect as they create truly unique papers.

Beginning Paper Marbling

September 9 – 10 (Mon – Tue), $285 + $45 materials fee

You will learn many traditional combed patterns plus the time-honored stone pattern. This course includes numerous extras such as instruction in marbling the edges of book pages and marbling on materials such as leather or wood. Students may reasonably expect to produce 20 to 30 papers during the class.

Bookbinding for Book and Paper Artists

September 12 – 13 (Thurs – Fri), $285 + $45 materials fee

A delight of a class where students use marbled and other papers to make a variety of books, both full size and miniature. An origami box is also featured, given a special twist to enhance its strength and functionality.

Pigment Grinding & Marbling Ink Preparation

September 16 (Mon), $185 + $30 materials fee

This one-day class teaches the magic of bringing color forth from natural materials. Prior to the advent of synthetic colors, crafts of all kinds employed ground pigments from plant and mineral sources. Feel the weight of the glass muller in your hand and discover the unexpected essence of indigo.

Historical Marbled Paper Patterns

September 17 – 18 (Tue – Wed), $285 + $50 materials fee

Early marblers made use of the physics of surface tension and ink densities in order to accomplish these deft, intricate patterns characteristic of marbling from the 1600s through the 1800s. Learn what the early marblers knew as you recreate these historical patterns. Students will also burnish their marbled papers, bringing the surface of the paper to a satisfying gloss.
